

VOL. XLIII.

PIOCHE, NEVADA, THURSDAY, JULY 5, 1894.

NO. 42.

After a horse dies the people begin to hear that the owner has refused hundreds of dollars for it.

Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls at Reno, has been closed and the grounds located.—Elko Free Press.

Thomas Gilbert, aged 24 years, a son of H. S. Gilbert of Paradise Valley, was drowned in the Humboldt at Lovelock on Friday.

Jacob Morgan, serving a term in the Nevada State Prison for grand larceny, recently went crazy and has been transferred to the Insane Asylum.

Oakland Times:—De Witt Talmage is lecturing on "The Bright Side of Things." The things that he likes to see "the bright side of" are the half-dollars taken in at the door.

William Waltz, a man who was formerly well-known on the Comstock, but who has recently resided in Nevada, committed suicide in a place Friday by shooting himself.

The Salt Lake Copper Manufacturing Company has just completed an extensive plant in that city at a cost of between $600,000 and $700,000, and will commence operations at once.

"You are as full of airs as a music box" is what a young man of Elko said to a fair young damsel who refused to let him see her home the other evening. "That may be," was the reply, "but I don't go with a crank."—Independent.

The old familiar jokes about the inability of women to drive a nail should be relegated into silent and sympathetic dust. The other day a farmer's wife in Oklahoma successfully shingled one side of her dwelling while her husband was in town looking up a carpenter.—Silver State.

The Chicago Herald says men take their pleasures in various fashions. Mr. Carnegie, for example, delights to sail around the Mediterranean in a steam yacht, while his energetic and enthusiastic partners enjoy themselves plugging up blowholes in armor plate for which a generous and paternal Government gladly pays the highest market price.

A man interested in seven claims in the Kennedy mining district, who recently arrived in Reno, says the new mining camp is no place for a man without money, as there is no demand for workmen, on the account of lack of capital among the claim owners. He says there are a number of men there now who consider themselves lucky when able to spare one meal a day.

A sad case is reported from Santa Fe, where a little boy became lost and was found seven miles from the ancient city, lying in a clump of cactus, dead. The little fellow had died from thirst. The poor mother, from whose side he wandered away, is almost distracted. Every person in Santa Fe who could leave his business engaged in the search for the boy when it became known that he was missing and his whereabouts was revealed to one of the searchers in a dream.

"Gold is a precious metal," explained the professor, "because of its scarcity. All the gold now in use in the world," he added, referring to a memorandum on the fly-leaf of the text book he was using, "according to careful and trustworthy estimates, could be put within the walls of a room twenty-four feet square. 'So could all the silver in the world,' suggested a little red-headed boy in the class, 'if you make the ceiling of the room high enough.'"

Miners working in the Empire mine at Grass Valley report a very singular occurrence during a recent thunderstorm. The lightning struck the pipe and descended into the mine to a depth of a thousand feet and thence into the drifts where the men were working repairing the air pipes. Two of them lifting a piece of pipe were struck by lightning and knocked down. Men working in the Granite Hill mine it is said were similarly affected.—Grass Valley Union.

TICKLE GRASS.

[Newspaper Bulletin No. 16.]

The writer has recently noticed along several country roads bunches of tickle grass that have been pulled up from adjoining fields and thrown in the drive-ways, supposedly for the purpose of preventing the weed from going to seed in the meadows. This is, to say the least, a pernicious practice and one to be discouraged at all times. The noxious character of tickle grass is too well known among farmers to require explanation. The pest is one of those introduced plants that has found a congenial climate and soil, and it enjoys a hardiness and grows with a vigor that promises permanent residence if left undisturbed.

There seems to be no royal road to the subjugation of the plant. Nature has provided it with every means for distribution and self-perpetuation. The heads break into fifty or seventy-five separate pieces, each containing a fertile seed. Each piece is provided with slender awns, giving it buoyancy when propelled by the wind; there are barbs, also, which serve to force it into the soil, or cause it to remain fastened to the coats of passing animals. Furthermore, the seeds are advanced in their development by the time the heads appear; consequently, simply pulling and casting aside the plants, even when apparently young, is of little or no avail.

It will be seen that throwing the plants into the road in every way assists the distribution of a dreaded weed. It would that the only reliable mode of procedure is to pull and burn the plants in spring, before the heads appear.

DE LAMAR DOTS.

The saw mill force was in town to celebrate the 4th, with the exception of Pat D., who took in the celebration at Eagle Valley.

Spino Dockleitch has moved his saloon over from the Heleus side and is located about midway down Main street on the north side.

Everybody was peaceably inclined here on the 4th, due to the appointment of a constable, or a lack of bug juice.

With the rising of the sun, Toney DePaoli, at the Flagstaff mine floated "Old Glory" to the breeze on the Flagstaff bluff and gave us a rousing salute of dynamite cartridges on the 4th.

The DeLamar boarding house is the place for a good dance.

The Fourth.

Our celebration of the 4th, was a success in every way. Nothing occurred to mar the harmony of the proceedings and all went merrily as a marriage bell.

As previously arranged, the full programme was carried out. The procession formed at Dooley's and marched up to Shier's at the head of Main street thence down to the bower which had been erected on the east front of Dooley's store, where the exercises of the day were held. A selection by the brass band led. The song "The Sword of Bunker Hill" by Morgan Williams, was roundly applauded. Then followed a recitation "Sons of America" by A. A. Carion, which was well received.

Herbert Francis read the Declaration of Independence in good style. A recitation "George Washington" by little Annie Shier set everybody wild. Song, Red White and Blue by everybody. Minuet by Annie and Laura Shier, very fine. Oration by Dr. Bjornson was enthusiastically received.

Recitation by Laura Shier, entitled "Belle McCarter" was applauded. Poem by N. P. Dooley. Concluded by singing the national hymn, "America" Dr. Bjornson leading. A barbecue followed, where the crowd generally enjoyed themselves, and in the evening the new boarding house of the DeLamar Co. was christened by holding a ball in it and all in attendance danced into the small hours of the morning.

You can't tell your fortune by cards, but you can lose it that way.—Philadelphia Record.

When a man makes a prediction, and it comes true, it tickles him almost to death.

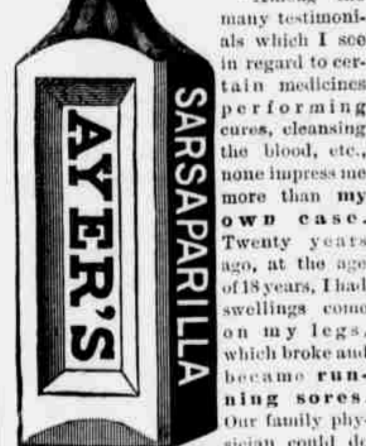

A novice in journalism recently soliloquized as follows: "Man is born of women, spanked by hired nurses and jerked half-dead by the cranky school master. He lingers on in luxury's lap until parental ancestors fire him out to begin his battle with the world. He starts a newspaper, and his friendly promises, like three-cent lamp chimneys, are broke. If he don't pitch into the prohibitionists the liberals can him, and if he does his high morality friends stop the paper. If he refuses to be social with Tom, Jim or Jack, they say he is stuck up, and if he makes intimate with the public they say he is courting public favor. If he publishes all the news, science, statistics, foreign reports and business outlook they say he is too fresh. If he doesn't make a personal of every one in town they get slighted, and if he does he will finally run across some man who does not like to be popularized and get his head punched.

Tacoma's whistling well has commenced operations again after a silence of two years. Residents in the neighborhood say that just previous to every storm it commences forcing out air of a gaseous nature, and that a person looking down stands a good chance of suffocation.

"Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me.

I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."
